Subject: Letter of intent to participate in Snowmass Collaboration , SBIR/STTR focussed

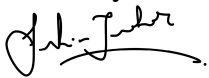

To Whom It May Concern:

I have been on both sides of the research spectrum. With more than 10 years of my career spent at Brookhaven National Laboratory and the last 10 years for profit R&D and product development, I've been interested in the Particle Physics Community Planning Exercise. I believe that the work done at the national labs yields in technologies of the future. These technologies are commercialized using various funding vehicles. Within the US, Small Business Innovative Research and Technology Transfer (SBIR/STTR) programs by various governmental agencies, including DOE represent one such comprehensive program.

I believe a platform for fostering collaboration opportunities between the scientists at national labs, universities and small businesses could go long ways. Currently in my opinion, such collaborations are serendipitous or come through prior engagements and collaborations. I am writing this letter to express my intent and willingness to participate and lead such an effort.

I look forward to attending and organizing future meetings at Snowmass,

Sincerely,

Sachin S Junnarkar, Ph.D
